Correction

In Cook's Corner last week the Herald-Observer incorrectly printed in the Jello Cakes recipe the cake should cook for 40 minutes. The recipe should have read let cake cool for 10 minutes before forking holes through the cake and pouring the jello mixture over cake.

We regret any inconvenience we may have caused any of the cooks following last Thursday's recipe.

SHERRY AND MELISSA MILLER of Belle Glade escaped death Friday, March 13, when their car collided with a cane truck on Highway 441 near the Everglades Animal Clinic. The two young women reportedly escaped serious injury by ducking under the dash of their car at the moment before the collision.

Commercial fishing future to be addressed

A series of three public hearings have been called by the Florida Game and Freshwater Fish Commission to discuss commercial fishing on Lake Okeechobee. Two of the public hearings will be held in the Lake Okeechobee area. Among the issues to be discussed are a permanent closed season in January and February and a ban on wire traps for all game fish taken from the lake. Dates for the public hearings include: Tuesday, March 24, 7:30 p.m., at the Manatee County Courthouse on Manatee Avenue in Bradenton; Wednesday, March 25 at 7:30 p.m. at Clewiston Middle School on W.C. Owen Avenue in Clewiston; and Thursday March 26, at 7:30 p.m. at Okeechobee High School on Highway 441 North.

Come out to Afro Arts Festival!

The Second Annual Glades Festival of Afro Arts is well on its way and the executive committee and the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., have planned a splendid affair in observance of Black Americans and their African ancestors and heritage.

The festival will kick off with a parade featuring Miss Rubenia Johnson, the first Miss Glades Festival of Afro Arts and her Royal Court, along with two of Belle Glade's finest citizens, Mr. and Mrs. John T. McCoy (JT) as the parade marshals.

Also three of Florida's and the nation's most distinguished black public figures will be speaking at the Festival.

Judge Alcee Hastings, district judge for the Southern district of Florida will be the keynote speaker.

Judge Hastings, no stranger to the Glades Area undoubtedly will deliver a soul shattering message.

Known for his civic rights work Judge Hastings' visit to the Glades is one you would not want to miss. Athalia Range and Sylvia Potter, two distinguished black women in their own right also are no strangers to the Glades. Mrs. Range a former commissioner for the city of Miami and Ms. Potter, presently serving as a commissioner for the City of Delray Beach surely will present some interesting information on the politics of our country and what's in store in the system for Blacks.

Get out and enjoy a day of refreshing activities and learn about the important roles Blacks played in the past, are playing presently and will play in the future in the growth of America.

Thought you would like to know, WPBT Channel 2, public television in South Florida will be presenting a special interview with Judge Alcee Hastings of Fayette, Miss., on Monday, Mar. 30 at 3:30 p.m.

Mayor Evers will be featured on "Within the Law."
Miami attorney Stanley M. Rosenblatt will talk to Mayor Evers on a variety of topics including Black leadership, former President Jimmy Carter, the Reagan Administration, welfare, crime, and the activists of the 60's: Stokely Carmichael, Eldridge Cleaver and Rap Brown.

Mayor Evers is an active member of the NAACP and is the brother of the slain civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. who was killed in the 60's in Mississippi.

This is a program you would want to share with your family. It will contain some excellent briefs on Black History in America during the 60's.

The American Cancer Society of Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties is planning a symposium "Challenge Against Cancer in Minorities," in Miami on Saturday, April 4 at Miami Dade Community College.

AACS has gone on record as being committed to cancer control programs of prevention and detection among Black Americans. Through greater participation from leadership within the Black community, a better job in cancer control can be achieved.

The minority Involvement Committee was thus organized and the goal is to "Educate in Order to Eradicate Cancer from our Black Community."

The symposium is opened to the public and the keynote speaker will be Dr. LaSalle D. LaFalle, Jr., a Floridian and the immediate past president of the American Cancer Society. Dr. LaFalle is an authority on Cancer's effect on the Black Community.

The registration for the symposium is $5 and it will include lunch.

Persons interested may contact me for additional information.

The symposium is one of five that will be held across Florida presenting information to interested citizens on cancer in minorities.

The overall conference goal is to increase minority awareness and participation in the activities of the American Cancer Society. Cancer is a serious health problem among minorities. It is the belief of the Minority Program that through a carefully selected group of workshops and facilitators, they can educate the community about cancer and the A.C.S.

Mayor Donald Tanner told Drummond the City Commissioners could not act on the new request because the city attorney was out of town.

"Until the city attorney gets back into town we must stay with the present rate," said Tanner.

Drummond also told the Commission he was disappointed with the critical media coverage the company had received following the last Commission meeting.

Drummond said the cable company hasn't had many calls outside of Villa Logo complaining of the television services.

Mayor Tanner told Drummond he receives complaints daily.

"I really wish some of these complaints would come to us so we cannot know about a problem unless we are called," said Drummond.

Drummond said

persons having complaints and problems with reception can reach the cable company seven days a week by calling 996-3086.

"We want to restore the public confidence in the cable company," said Drummond.

Drummond also told the commission in addition to constant installation of new equipment to improve reception, Station ESP will be added in three months. ESP is a all sports station.

In other business before the Commission:

• Mayor Tanner asked the citizens of South Bay to request home delivery and purchase mail boxes and install them near their homes.

Tanner said within 30 days General Delivery will be in place. "This is not just in South Bay but the U.S. Postal System is cutting that service out across the

About those roads

By Walter L. Revell

Editor's note: Walter L. Revell is the former Florida Secretary of Transportation.

Sharp curves, along with high crowns, narrow lanes and blind intersections, make half of Florida's state and local roads inadequate for today's traffic demands.

These obsolete roads are more than just an inconvenience. They can be deadly. Data released by The Road Information Program (TRIP) of Washington, D.C., indicates that they are the primary cause of 219 motor vehicle accidents in Florida every day.

In terms of numbers, hazardous highways are responsible for 80,000 accidents, costing the state's taxpayers $292.4 million annually. That's an average of $3,600 per accident caused by antiquated roads.

One of the reasons Florida has so much obsolete mileage is because more than half of it was built prior to World War II. There are more cars using the system today than engineers and designers in the 20's and 30's could imagine. The cars, buses and trucks that pound Florida's highways are larger, wider, longer and heavier than their older counterparts. And they travel more miles to a gallon than pre-World War II vehicles. In all, these roads can't safely handle the traffic conditions of 1980.

The leading cause of accidents in Florida is driver error. The State Highway Patrol can attest to how tough it is to correct bad driving habits that cause accidents. But, while little can be done to prevent accidents caused by driver error, a lot can be done to prevent accidents caused by obsolete roads.

Upgrading more than 12,000 miles of our paved highways would eliminate one out of every four accidents, save lives and reduce human suffering. Based on federal Highway Administration reports, virtually all accidents caused by hazardous highways can be eliminated, if the roads are upgraded.

The 343,000 accidents occurring in Florida last year cost the citizens of the state $1.26 billion in hospital fees, property damage and payments to victims. Enough people died on Florida highways last year to rank the state 15th in the nation for traffic fatalities.

These miles of obsolete roads have gone unrepaid for a simple reason: lack of money. The State Department of Transportation and responsible local authorities have been unable to keep up with increasing numbers of improvement projects with decreasing revenues.

Until the State finds a way to raise the needed money, Florida motorists will continue to be threatened by hazardous roads.

Car dealers look for upswing

As the sugar cane-cutting season ends early this year, there is, fortunately, some upbeat news from a long-suffering local business group.

Many downtown shops will be facing the annual, inevitable slowdown that the end of the sugar harvest brings. But local car dealers have been telling me that auto sales are up again, after many months of record declines.

National trends, as reported last week, give right along with our apparent local trends. People are looking and beginning to buy cars again.

The upturn is not all that stupendous, one dealer reported this week, because after such huge dips last year, the car industry had nowhere to go but up. But at least things are starting, knock on wood, to look up again for the automobile people, both in the Glades and across America.

Now if those guys will just stop teasing me about my Datsun...

Local Bonters say Lake is Very Low

This isn't a scientific report or a thorough investigation, but some of my boating friends say Lake Okechobee is getting so low that they are afraid of taking their boats out on it.

This, if true, is undoubtedly a product of the drought that has plagued our region for the national $6,655.00 to complete the project. Harrell said the city funds would be used to re-surf Northwest First Streets and 4th Ave.

• Passed resolution to pay off a 1963 Water Revenue bond in the amount of $375,000.

• Delayed taking action on a request by Kendra Perkins a member of the Business and Industry Committee of the American Cancer Society to make a donation to the Society.

JIM JONES
BOILER PLATE

It's all in the eye of the beholder

There it was, suspended between Bo Derek and Elvis Presley: only a face a mother could love. It was a portrait, a profile. That nose, that receding hairline.

What in the world was a portrait of that guy doing hanging in the Henry County Fair Exhibit Hall? Ken Alford first brought it to my attention. "Jim, is that your picture down at the fair?" he asked.

Surely not, I responded, but then thinking about it just for a moment, I said, "Could be."

Several persons asked if my wife or her husband's picture was displayed at the fair. No, who would want to display his picture, she said.

So we went down to look at this portrait that we had been hearing about.

"Yeah, there I am," I said pointing to the face that greets me in the shaving mirror each day.

"You wish," my wife said, thinking that I was pointing to Elvis.

"No, no," I said, "Look just down and to the right."

And sure enough, there was Jim Jones, not "brutally handsome" as one character is described in a contemporary song, but in his full glory nonetheless.

It's fascinating looking at oneself through the eyes of another.

Given the subject matter, artist Mary Faye Walker did a wonderful job. I think she was generous with the amount of hair she painted, but I cannot hold that against her.

It's a supreme compliment to have ones visage recorded by another. Thanks Mary Faye. I love the portrait.

It's been said that the fair is a storehouse of surprises, but it was true for me in a personal way this year.

After seeing a portion of the rehearsal of "The Prisoner of Second Avenue" earlier this month, I considered myself fortunate to obtain tickets to the opening night of the production.

I'm looking forward to an evening of humor, drama, and fine acting from the young group which is hoping to start a local tradition. Tickets can be obtained here at the Herald-Observer office or at Palm Beach Junior College.

While I was in Tampa this weekend on business, I drove over to Lakeland Saturday to catch some of the action in the state high school basketball championships.

Class 1A Moore Haven was the closest thing to a Glades team still playing, finally losing out to Malone in the finals.

Pahokee's conqueror, Avon Park, went down to flaming defeat in the semifinals.

In the evening's last event, Clearwater beat Miami Central for the state Class 4A championship. Clearwater had 7 foot center with one of the softest, finest shooting touches I've seen. Those 7 foot centers do make a difference and there probably isn't a coach in this area who wouldn't like to have one just once.

I was struck once again by the difficulty of winning a state championship. Glades Day's 1980 football championship remains a monumental achievement.

Just a reminder to coaches: We'll be covering as many of your events as we can this year, but due to the number of schools in this area, we have to ask that whenever possible coaches give us a call and report your results. Our number is 996-2057.

I believe that local sports are one of the best read parts of a community newspaper and we want to report all the sports news possible.

Christian Day loses 1st game of year

BY SCOTT ELLIS
Christian Day High School's baseball Crusaders lost their first match of the year Saturday. But they also won the other side of their twinnish at Palm Vista, and Coach Gus Harmon said he wasn't disappointed.

The Crusaders lost to Indian River Academy 3-2 but beat Palm Vista in a slaughter, 14-1.

"You know, the Indian River coach came up to me after the loss and said, 'I'm sorry about how we won.' But I said don't apologize, you beat my built," Harmon said.

Indian River didn't exactly kill Christian Day, but two factors — the Crusaders' inability to hit Indian pitcher Steve Farinacci's slow curve and a hard-look first inning did.

Indian River scored all their runs in the first, on four walks and a single. Christian Day scored their two in the third, when Jesus Armas started things off with a walk, and steals of second and third.

Armas came home on an Alex Morales single. Morales, who was tagged with the loss, stole second and reached third on a fielder's choice. Morales scored on a Bill Cruz sacrifice fly.

No errors were made in the game, and Christian Day struck out only once. In the Palm Vista game, Christian Day scored seven runs in the first inning and got seven consecutive hits in the second.

Cruz got a two RBI single, Jimmy Hager got a single, and Jesus Armas a two RBI double, and Armas smashed an RBI double, all in the first frame. Cruz, Juan Armas, Kent Davis, Robert Echols, Luis Garcia, Hager and Jesus Armas each got consecutive hits in the second.

Palm Vista's only run came in the first. Winning pitcher was Bill Cruz, who is now 3-0. Cruz, with 28 strikeouts in 16 innings, got nine whiffs Saturday and walked none on his way to a one-hitter. Cruz hasn't allowed an earned run all year.

Leading hitters Crusader include Jesus Armas (.500 with an .830 on-base percentage), Kent Davis (.462) and Morales (.400).

The Crusaders go on the road Thursday, to Jupiter Christian; and Friday to LaBelle. Christian's record is 4-1.

BUDDY NORRIS

HOOK, LINE & SINKER

With the nice summertime weather slipping up on us and the fish recuperating from a bad case of the "cold water shakes," fishermen are flocking to the "Big O" with lunker fever.

Bass fishing is slowly rising out of slowdown and is now showing some promise. That "fisherman's grin" is now replacing those looks of frustration and bewilderment on the faces of many fishermen over the last few months. Bass are showing up along the shorelines of Pelican Bay, Long Point, and Ritts Island. Spoons, worms, spinner baits, and shiners are good appetizers for the bass right now.

Speck fishing is still holding its own with good catches being reported from the Tree Island area. Jigs and minnows are producing the best.

So dig out the tackle, load up the kids, and come on out. Oh, don't forget to bring the wife. Bring her on out to show you how it's done.

City pushes for recount of census

BELLE GLADE — Belle Glade city officials are continuing to assert that the city's population was undercounted in the 1980 Census and are asking that the count be revised upward.

"The area planning board has been working on it and we have contacted our U.S. senators," City Planner Joe Fay said Friday. "We feel the count has been misrepresented."

The city has considered joining a law suit initiated by another city, unless the figures are increased.

According to preliminary figures published by the Census Bureau in February, Belle Glade's population declined from 15,949 in 1970 to 14,480 in 1980.

In the initial count, Belle Glade was credited with having 11,470. That figure was later increased two times, first to 13,237 and then to 14,480.

Based on a study of the city's birth and death records, water customers, and other data over a 10-year period, which indicates a two to three percent annual growth rate, Fay says the population is probably closer to 17,000.

The Area Planning Board has evaluated the information available on Belle Glade's population and concluded that the Census count is statistically incorrect. Copies of a resolution to this effect have been sent to the city, Palm Beach County, U.S. Representative Dan Mica, and the Census Bureau's regional office in Atlanta.

City officials differ with the Bureau's housing figures also, which indicate a growth from 5,658 to 6,012 during the past 10 years. These figures are no longer being contested, but Fay says the Bureau claims Belle Glade has a 15 percent vacancy rate, which is "ridiculous."

Pahokee city officials are also concerned by the preliminary report, which shows Pahokee's population declining to 4,771 from 5,683. Mayor Norma Norman said City of Pahokee figures indicate the population is closer to 6,800.

"We don't have the money to push it," Norman said of the effort to revise the figures.

Palm Beach County should lead the way in having the figures corrected, he said, adding that Pahokee would be willing to support the cause.

Despite efforts to bring the figures into line with the area's actual population, the federal bureaucracy may yet prevail. "We're not very hopeful," Fay said.

Census figures are used for a wide variety of purposes, including drawing district boundary lines for legislative representation and for federal grant and revenue sharing programs.

13 arrested on drug charges

A two month combined investigation by the Belle Glade Police Department and the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department Organized Crime Bureau resulted in 13 drug related arrests Wednesday, March 11.

Investigators confiscated approximately one-half pound of marijuana, hashish, pills, and parphenalia. Ten adults and three juveniles were arrested.

Charged with possession of marijuana with intent to sell were Mamie Lou McCallum of 524 S.W. 9th Street #2, and Vern Mae Davis of 525 S.W. 8th St. #3.

Charged with sale of marijuana was Willie Floyd Walker. Jimmy Lee Brown was charged with sale of cocaine and soliciting for the sale of cocaine. George Warren was charged with sale of cocaine.

Henry Lee Felder was charged with sale of marijuana and two counts of sale of cocaine, while Roosevelt Peter Robinson and Bernard Wildred Bailey were charged with sale of cocaine and possession of marijuana. Howard Bates was charged with three counts of sale of marijuana.

Thirteen persons were arrested in all on 19 charges involving the sale of narcotics. Chief D. Bill Mathis and Detective Captain Frank Fogelman coordinated the investigation.

Making the arrests were Patrolmen Jack Fulewider and Michael Johnson of the Belle Glade Police Department and Deputy Sheriff Mike Smith of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department.

Chamber orders 375 chickens

BELLE GLADE — Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors voted to order 375 chickens for the Black Gold Jubilee Thursday, March 12.

The chickens will be the main course at the chamber's barbecue Sunday, April 12, at the city marina. The chamber will also operate a concession stand at the marina.

In other business at Thursday's meeting, David Goodlett reported that the chamber's float entry in the jubilee parade is shaping up. The frame for the Horn of Plenty is built and "it looks real good," Goodlett said.

Board members were advised that the 32nd Annual Kissimmee Boat-A-Cade would be stopping over in Belle Glade June 21st.

Mental Retardation Month

By Alma Heary

March is Mental Retardation Month across the nation and citizen advocacy groups across America and right here in the Glades are busy disseminating information in the hope of making America's number one health problem affecting children today: Mental Retardation, a more readily understood illness among the general populace.

Most people have heard the term Mental Retardation and yet few people understand what mental retardation is, who it affects and what effect it has on a person's life.

Tricia Blash, executive director of the Association for Retarded Citizens-Glades Area said "Mental Retardation is not a disease."

"A mentally retarded person is one who from childhood matures at below-average rate and experiences unusual difficulty in learning, social adjustment and economic productivity," said Mrs. Blash.

Until recently, most people believed that retardation was inherited from one of the child's parents. It is known that only about one fourth of the cases of retardation are hereditary. Mental retardation can be caused by any condition which interferes with the child's development before birth, during birth or in the early childhood years.

Many causes of retardation are unknown and therefore, remain preventable. But medical experts now say at least 50 percent of the cases are preventable.

"Every five minutes in the United States, a child is born mentally retarded, and for the most part most of these cases could have been prevented," said Mrs. Blash.

Blash said since she began her work with the Association for Retarded Citizens she has come across a high number of mentally retarded cases that were preventable.

"Of prime importance in the prevention of mental retardation is the health of the mother before and during pregnancy," said Mrs. Blash. Constant attention to the development of the child from the embryonic stage through delivery; and the assurance that once born, the child is afforded not only a chance to grow physically strong, but also the opportunity to learn to experience sensory and cultural stimulation, also have been found to be important.

It is known that a large number of preventable mental retardation cases are drug related, she said.

According to information released by the March of Dimes, "everything a woman eats or drinks gets into her fetus. At some other time however in pregnancy might not affect the fetus at all. Most birth defects are caused during the first 12 weeks of pregnancy, when a baby's body, arms, legs, and internal organs are being formed. The wrong drug taken at this time could interrupt, or drastically change, part of the baby's development. The same drug taken at some other time however in pregnancy might not affect the fetus at all."

Many medications can cause birth defects, even the most commonly used aspirins when taken alone or combined with other drugs.

Mrs. Blash said the National Association for Retardation recommends that all expectant mothers check with their doctors about the safety of taking drugs during their pregnancy.

Besides medicine, there are the social drugs: hard drugs, alcohol and tobacco that can be harmful.

Although studies have shown there is a need to clarify the effects of hard drugs (heroin, cocaine, and amphetamines) on the unborn there is no doubt about the destructive force they can have on anyone's health. A pregnant, heroin addict can pass her addiction to her baby, causing it painful withdrawal symptoms at birth. Pregnant addicts also neglect their health because of their drug needs. This increases the risk of having a sick baby.

LSD, mescaline, hashish, and marijuana, change the user's sensation and emotions. Even though they don't cause physical addiction, they may lead to damaging psychological dependence. All women of childbearing age should understand that drugs, whether hard or soft, pose a possible threat to the health of their unborn babies.

Studies have also shown that mothers who smoke heavily tend to have low birthweight babies. Many doctors believe that nicotine is directly responsible for stunting fetal growth. Others suspect that since smoking constricts blood circulation in varying degrees, this may deprive the fetus of adequate nutrients through the placenta.

Alcohol passes the placenta quickly. An unborn baby feels a drink almost as fast as the mother does. If a fetus is overwhelmed with liquor, his or her body can be prevented from developing as it should. Children of alcoholic mothers are sometimes born with a pattern of birth defects known as "fetal alcohol syndrome."

Although there is so little known about the effect of drugs, alcohol and tobacco on the unborn, there is so much at stake, the life of the unborn.

Presently there is an estimated three percent of the population of the United States—or more than six million individuals—are believed to be mentally retarded.

More than 100,000 babies born each year will be added to this number unless far reaching preventive measures are discovered and used.

Until doctors and researchers can determine the cause and prescribe corrective measures, the National Association for Retarded Citizens recommends these simple steps for mother to be, in taking care of themselves and their future children.

- Think ahead.
- About one-fourth of all mentally retarded individuals are retarded because of a genetic factor. Genetic counseling can help couples decrease these estimates.
- See your doctor before conception.
- Eat the right foods.
- Protect yourself with immunizations.
- If you get German or three-day measles (rubella) in the first three months of pregnancy, retardation or some other birth defect may be the result.
- Beware of radiation.
- Have no x-rays without your doctor's knowledge of your condition.
- Continue to see your doctor.
- The doctor will check the baby's growth until it is time for you to deliver. Abnormalities may be detected and possibly corrected or reduced with constant care.
- Stop smoking.
- Venereal diseases needs treatment.
- Damage to the unborn baby's heart, skeleton, nervous system and brain can be caused by a venereal disease—the result can be a mentally retarded child.
- Know your blood type.
- Avoid drugs except those prescribed by your doctor.

Childrens events highlight Black Gold Jubilee

By JIM JONES

BELLE GLADE—One of the highlights of the Black Gold Jubilee this year is the childrens schedule of events.

Organizers acknowledge that a full slate of activities for the younger set will help keep the entire family entertained.

One of the agenda are a childrens art show, baby crawling contest, fishing contest, pie eating contest, pet show, haystack scramble and greased pole contest.

Cecil Haller, childrens activities chairman for the Black Gold Jubilee Committee, is coordinating the activities.

One of the most ambitious projects is the childrens art show. Judges will select 156 of the best pieces of artwork created by kindergarten through sixth grade children for display in the Belle Glade Library April 6-11.

Members of the Belle Glade Junior Womens Club will be judges for the competition.

Schedule of the judging begins Monday, March 30, with judges visiting Belle Glade Elementary School. The remainder of the schedule Glades Day and Apostolic Church - March 31, Christian Day and Lutheran - April 1, Gove Elementary - April 2, and Lake Shore Elementary and Glade View Elementary - April 3.

Seven medallions will be awarded to the top artists and many children will receive ribbons for their work.

The Baby Crawling Contest will be held at McDonald Park at 2 p.m. April 11. Trophies will be awarded to the winner, second place, and third place. The Belle Glade Junior Womens Club is in charge of this event.

Scout Island will host a fishing contest April 10 from 3 to 5 p.m. Children up to the age of 12 can enter. No fee will be charged. Bait will be supplied, but children must bring their own, non-mechanical fishing gear.

Fishing trophies will be awarded to boys and girls under six for most fish caught and largest fish caught. Children above six will also receive trophies for the same categories. One trophy will be awarded to the child who lands the smallest fish.

Sunday Afternoon April 12, the pie eating contest begins at 3 p.m. Children must eat with hands behind their backs. Trophies are to be awarded to the winners in two age groups - five to nine years old and nine to 12 years old.

A pet show will also be going on at 3 p.m. with trophies awarded to the children with prettiest dog, funniest dog, best trained dog, and best of show dog.

Cats and other types of pets will be recognized also. A best of show for cats and second place cat will be recognized, along with the most unusual pet.

There will be no admission charged to the pet show. The pet show is for fun, rather than being an official champion show.

A haystack scramble follows at 4 p.m. with separate contests for children in the two to four, four to six, six to eight, and eight to 10 year old categories. In each division, children will scramble for a silver dollar.

Topping the days events off is the greased pole climb. Two peeled cypress poles will present a challenge to youngsters who try to climb to the top to retrieve the $10 bill for younger children and $20 bill for large children nailed to the top. Old clothes should be worn for this event.

Adults wishing to assist with chaperoning or judging any of the contests are asked to call Mrs. Haller at 996-1701.

At their weekly meeting Friday, March 13, Black Gold Jubilee Chairman Steve Weeks asked members to begin thinking about the date for next year's festival, even as this year's Jubilee is finalized.

Committee members approved payment of $100 to Pahokee bands to march in this year's parade.

Weeks said he would be listening to several bands which have expressed interest in playing for the Jubilee on its big weekend, April 11-12. The committee rejected as two expensive a proposal to bring in a portable stage for the weekend. The committee would have had to pay $850 rent for the stage.

Stella Taylor's 25 mile swim from Moore Haven to Belle Glade is still on and it was reported that most arrangements have been completed.

Kight and Darville to speak Sunday

PAHOKEE — The St. James A.M.E. Church, will celebrate its Annual Women's Day, Sunday, Mar. 22, at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The theme for the annual observance is "Christian Women working in unity in a family circle for God."

The morning speaker will be Mrs. Barbara W. Knight of Belle Glade.

Speaking in the afternoon will be Mrs. Gloria Darville, a member of the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church. Mrs. Elsie Thomas is serving as chairperson of the activities. The public is invited to attend these

Revival starts Monday

PAHOKEE — The annual city-wide revival sponsored by the Pahokee/Canal Point Ministerial Association will be held at the Prince Theatre in Pahokee beginning Sunday, Mar. 22 through Saturday, Mar. 28. Services will begin each night at 7:30 p.m.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Gale Wetzel, a nationally known accredited evangelist from Kentucky who will be emphasizing the theme "Revive Us Again."
